Hi Dan and Laura:

I want to give you a report on our efforts to figure out precisely how many CPRA demands Mr. Riskin has sent, in order to finalize our letter limiting Mr. Riskin's use of City resources. We have spent most of the week trying to convert the data we received from ITA into a readable format. We are now able to do so, but the conversion process is time consuming and laborious. We hope to be done by the end of the day tomorrow. We will then need a few days to go through the data for our count and to pull out some examples of particularly broad or retaliatory demands. Our ETA for finalizing our letter and getting it out has now moved to next week. Like you, are office continues to be inundated on a daily basis so we are extremely motivated and moving at full speed.

I will give you another update next week.
